3	博物館 2樓大廳	 A wide-angle photograph of a spacious, modern atrium on the second floor of a museum. The space is characterized by its high ceilings and extensive use of glass and steel. A large, illuminated, abstract sculpture, composed of many small, white, rectangular elements, hangs from the ceiling. The floor is made of light-colored, polished stone tiles. In the background, there are glass-walled elevators and a reception area with a curved desk.
4	博物館 2樓中庭	 A photograph of an outdoor courtyard area on the second floor of a museum. The most striking feature is a curved wall with a blue, textured facade made of many small, circular, raised elements. The courtyard is paved with light-colored tiles and has some greenery and a few people walking in the distance. The sky is overcast.
